TRANSLATOR'S PREFACE

"NONE among you has truly believed, until I have become more beloved to him than his children, his parents and all of mankind,"[1] said RasūlAllāh ﷺ. Early Muslims were mindful of this instruction, and held it dear to their hearts; they were successful in this world and hoped for success in the hereafter.

[1] Lit. "his son, his father and all of mankind." This is a famous and Ṣaḥīḥ ḥadīth recorded in Bukhārī and Muslim among other ḥadīth compilations.

Many biographies have been written describing the attributes of the Prophet ﷺ, his exceptional character and his immaculate life which is a model for mankind to follow. Allāh táālā says:

لَّقَدْ كَانَ لَكُمْ فِي رَسُولِ اللَّهِ أُسْوَةٌ حَسَنَةٌ لِّمَن كَانَ يَرْجُو اللَّهَ وَالْيَوْمَ الْآخِرَ وَذَكَرَ اللَّهَ كَثِيرًا

Verily, it is better for you to follow the Messenger of Allāh; [and] for those who hope [to meet] Allāh, and [believe in] the Final Day, and remember Allāh táālā immensely.[2]

Muslims should learn about the Messenger ﷺ of Allāh, and strive to know more about him ﷺ. It is therefore, that scholars approved of gatherings to remember him. This epistle is a concise biography of the Prophet ﷺ, which is perfect for reading during Mawlid gatherings, as it can be read cover to cover within an hour or two. A knowledgeable reader can elaborate on any particular aspect of the life of RasūlAllāh ﷺ, whether his miracles or his attributes or his sayings. Also, this book is based on authentic narrations and was compiled by a well-known Ĥadīth imām of the 8th century; therefore, chronic grumblers and grudging malcontents should have little to complain about.[3]

The translation follows the printed copy, edited and annotated by Muĥammad Saýīd Ádnān al-Abrash and Muĥammad Ghassān Naşşūĥ. I have cross-checked, where necessary, with classical biographies like Mawāhib, Madārij etc., in transcribing names and for the clarifications

[2] Sūrah Al-Aĥzāb, 33:21. Even though, in the context of revelation, this is addressed to a specific group of people, exegetes have considered it as generic.

[3] One of the common criticism of Mawlid gatherings is that people narrate weak or fabricated narrations and tell baseless stories.

mentioned in footnotes. Footnotes translated from the print edition are captioned Editors' Note. Even though the Arabic printed edition is extensively referenced, I have omitted them in the translation to keep it concise and simple. In-shā'Allāh, we shall release a fully referenced edition in the future.

We live in challenging times in which, ignorant preachers who attempt to diminish the lofty stature of RasūlAllāh ﷺ in the name of tawĥīd are looked upon as guides instead of being rebuked and silenced. These misguided speakers have created an atmosphere of suspicion and fostered a culture of disrespect which has emboldened common folk to label permissible practices and valid beliefs as polytheism and innovation without hesitation. The praise of the Prophet ﷺ is decried and lamented as an exaggeration, even though such praise is mentioned in ṣaĥīĥ ĥadīth. In the appendices, I have clarified a few wrong notions and refuted false ideas circulated by ignoramuses masquerading as scholars. In the spirit of brevity, I have tried to keep the appendices short and the information therein is derived from famous works.

We beseech Allāh táālā to bestow upon us the love of the Prophet ﷺ and make us his diligent followers and to remain faithful to his sunnah. We ask Allāh táālā to raise us under his ﷺ standard on the Day of Judgement and grant us the intercession of His beloved ﷺ for the sake of His beloved ﷺ.

والصلاة والسلام على سيد الأنبياء والمرسلين وعلى آله وصحبه أجمعين

AUTHOR'S INTRODUCTION

Thus said the meticulous research scholar, the imām, Shaykh Fat'ĥuddīn Abu'l Fat'ĥ Muĥammad ibn Muĥammad ibn Muĥammad ibn Sayyidi'n Nās al-Yámurīy ar-Rabýiy – may Allāh táālā sanctify his secret:

Praise be to Allāh táālā who opens the doors [of Grace] when He is called upon; and He, who bestows the means of guidance; Salutations and blessings be upon His Prophet Muĥammad ﷺ, whom Allāh táālā sent as a guide to those who accepted guidance; and as a proof[4] against those who turned away; and [salutations be] upon his descendants and his companions who loved and cherished his ﷺ tradition all their lives.

Úyūn al-Athar fī Funūn al-Maghāzī wa'sh Shamāyil wa's Siyar[5]is a comprehensive biography that I have compiled; a copious and ample resource for seekers of this knowledge. After its completion, I felt that an abridged version would facilitate quick reference, and would be easy to read and to carry. It is a book that imparts knowledge to the beginner and serves as a review for the master. Hence, I have summarised it in these pages, and named it The Light of Sight – A Concise Biography of the Trustworthy, the Vouchsafed.[6]

Thus we begin, with a prayer for aid and guidance from Allāh táālā and beseech Him to steer our essay and ease the path to goodness.

HIS ﷺ BLESSED BIRTH

He ﷺ was born on a Monday, in the month of Rabiý al-Awwal, in the Year of the [Attack of the] Elephants.[9] It is said that it was on the second or the third or the twelfth of the month. Other dates have also been mentioned in this regard. His mother bore him during the days of tashrīq,[10] near the Middle Stoning Area.[11] It is also said that it was perhaps another day.[12] On the night of his birth ﷺ, the palace[13] of Chosroes shook until the sound of its tremor was heard [from afar] and fourteen columns[14] of his palace collapsed; the grand fire of the Persians, which had been burning continuously for a thousand years was extinguished, and the water of lake Sāwah evaporated.[15]

---

[9] Abraha was an Ethiopian king who attempted to invade Makkah to destroy the Kaábah. He came with an army of elephants which were destroyed by a flock of small birds sent by Allāh táālā. This event is mentioned in the 105th sūrah of the Qur'ān. The year in which this event occurred is known as the 'Year of the Elephants' : áām al-fīl.

[10] Ayyām al-tashrīq: the rising days, the radiant days. These are the 5 days in Dhu'l Ĥijjah, the twelfth month of the Islamic year.

[13] Yīwān: palace; it is said that it was the massive palace built by Darius at Persepolis called Apadana. http://oi.uchicago.edu/museum/collections/pa/persepolis/apadana.html

[14] Wikipedia: "This palace was called the Apadana. The King used it for official audiences. The work began in 515 BC. His son Xerxes I completed it 30 years later. The palace had a grand hall in the shape of a square, each side 60 m long with seventy-two columns, thirteen of which still stand on the enormous platform. Each column is 19m high with a square Taurus and plinth. The columns carried the weight of the vast and heavy ceiling. The tops of the columns were made from animal sculptures such as two headed bulls, lions and eagles."

HIS ﷺ BEING NURSED

He ﷺ was suckled by Ĥalīmah al-Hudhaliyyah, the daughter of Abū Dhu'ayb. While he ﷺ was in Ĥalīmah's care, the event of the incision of his chest occurred, and when his bosom was filled with wisdom and faith; and after the portion for the devil[16] was removed from it.

He ﷺ was also suckled by Thuwaybah al-Aslamiyyah,[17] the slave-girl of Abū Lahab.[18]

He ﷺ was nursed in the care of Umm Ayman Barakah al-Ĥabashiyyah,[19] [a slave-girl owned] by his father[20] and whom he ﷺ inherited. When he ﷺ grew up, he ﷺ freed her and she was given in marriage to Zayd ibn al-Ĥārithah.

[16] The wording of the ĥadīth is: ba-áda ani'stukhrija ĥażżu'sh shayṭāni minhu. This ĥadīth is found in Ṣaĥīĥ Muslim 261/162, Ibn Hibbān 6334, Musnad Imām Aĥmad 3/121, and Bayhaqī's Dalāyil an-Nubuwwah 1/135. This ĥadīth is interpreted in accordance with the principle of Ahlu's Sunnah, that Prophets are free from sin; one of the best explanation is by Qāđī Íyāđ in Ikmāl al-Múlim wherein he says that 'the portion for shaytan' means the portion which the Devil covets and exploits for his advantage. It was removed before it could be exploited. See Appendix A for a clarification.

[18] He was the paternal uncle of RasūlAllāh ﷺ. He opposed RasūlAllāh ﷺ and became an enemy; he was damned forever on account of his abusiveness – and is mentioned in the Qur'ān by name, in Sūrah Lahab, the 111th chapter of the Qur'ān.

GROWING UP

His father passed away, when he ﷺ was still in his mother's womb. It is also said that he ﷺ was either two or seven or twenty-eight months old [when his father passed away].[21]

His ﷺ mother passed away when he was a boy of four years. It is also said that he was six [when his mother passed away].[22]

His ﷺ grandfather Ábdu'l Muṭṭalib then became his guardian. When he ﷺ reached the age of eight years, two months and ten days, his grandfather Ábdu'l Muṭṭalib passed away. His [paternal] uncle Abū Ṭālib took him ﷺ in his care.

When he ﷺ was twelve years, two months and ten days old – he ﷺ set out with his uncle Abū Ṭālib to the Levant. When they reached Buṣrā,[23] the monk[24] Baĥīrā saw him and recognised him by his attributes and distinguishing marks. Baĥīrā came to him ﷺ, held his hand and said: "This is the Messenger of the Lord of all worlds, whom Allāh táālā will send forth as a mercy to the worlds. Verily, when you descended in the valley, the very stones and trees prostrated – and they do not prostrate except for a prophet. We find the description of his attributes in our books; and it was well-known to those who came before us." He then told Abū Ṭālib: "If you proceed to the Levant, the Jews will kill him." So his uncle turned back [without going further] fearing harm to his nephew's ﷺ life.

The Prophet ﷺ set out a second time to the Levant in the company of Maysarah, a slave of Khadījah ؓ, when representing her business, and before his ﷺ marriage to her.[25] When he ﷺ reached the Levant, he ﷺ sat under a tree close to a monastery.[26] The monk (of the hermitage) said: 'None except a prophet has ever sat under this tree'.

Maysarah would say: 'During the journey, when the sun was very hot, I saw two angels descend from the sky, giving him shade'.

After he ﷺ returned from this journey, he ﷺ married Khadījah bint[27] Khuwaylid; and his age was twenty five years, two months and ten days. It is also said that his age was other than what has been mentioned [above].

When he ﷺ reached his thirty-fifth year, he ﷺ witnessed the rebuilding of the Kaábah and he ﷺ placed the black stone with his own blessed hands.

PROCLAMATION OF PROPHETHOOD[28]

When he ﷺ reached the age of forty years and a few days, Allāh táālā sent him forth as a Messenger bearing glad tidings[29] and as a Warner[30] to all the worlds. The archangel Jibrīl[31] عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ came to him ﷺ in the cave of Ĥirā'a with a revelation[32] from the Lord of the Worlds and he said: "Read." He ﷺ replied: "I am not read".[33]

[Describing the event,] he ﷺ said: "And he[34] clasped me in a tight and smothering embrace; then, he released me [from the embrace] and said once more, "Read" to which I replied: "I am not read". So the third time, he said:[35]

ٱقْرَأْ بِٱسْمِ رَبِّكَ ٱلَّذِى خَلَقَ ۞ خَلَقَ ٱلْإِنسَـٰنَ مِنْ عَلَقٍ ۞ ٱقْرَأْ وَرَبُّكَ ٱلْأَكْرَمُ ۞

ٱلَّذِى عَلَّمَ بِٱلْقَلَمِ ۞ عَلَّمَ ٱلْإِنسَـٰنَ مَا لَمْ يَعْلَمْ ۞

> Read! In the name of thy Lord who hath created thee. He hath created man from a congealed clot of blood. Read, in [the name of] your Lord, the most Honourable. He who taught by the pen; and taught man that which he knew not. [36]

He ﷺ received the first revelation as mentioned above on Monday, the eighth day of Rabiý al-Awwal.

The people of Makkah then blockaded him ﷺ and he ﷺ was confined to the hollow[37] of Abū Ṭālib along with his family for more than three years. When they emerged from the valley [after the blockade was eased] he ﷺ was forty-nine years old. Eight months and twenty-one days after the boycott collapsed, his ﷺ uncle Abū Ṭālib died; [Sayyidah] Khadījah ﵂ died three days later.

When he ﷺ reached the age of fifty years and three months, a party of Jinn of the Naṣībīn[38] came to him ﷺ and became Muslims.

When he was fifty-one years and nine months old, he ﷺ went on the Night Journey[39] commencing from the place between Zamzam[40] and the Maqām,[41] to Jerusalem.

The Burāq[42] was brought [once again] and he ﷺ mounted it and he was raised to the heavens; prayer was made obligatory during this journey.

When he ﷺ reached the age of fifty-three, he ﷺ migrated from Makkah to Madīnah on a Monday, on the 22nd of Rabiý al-Awwal. He entered Madīnah on a Monday. He ﷺ stayed in Madīnah for [the next] ten years until he ﷺ passed away from this world.

Some of these dates are differed upon by historians, and I have mentioned the dates that I have considered to be accurate, and described in my book Úyūn al-Athar.

Whereas, RasūlAllāh ﷺ had already arrived to Jerusalem upon it; and here it is the commencement of the heavenly ascension of RasūlAllāh ﷺ. Burāq is a white animal, taller than a donkey and shorter than a mule and its stride is as far as it can see. [Muslim]

CAMPAIGNS AND SORTIES

He ﷺ undertook twenty-five or twenty-seven wars in this period. He participated in seven of these himself.

1. Badr
2. Uĥud
3. Khandaq (The battle of the Trench)
4. Banī Qurayżah
5. Banī Muṣṭalaq
6. Khaybar[43]
7. Ĥunayn
8. Ṭāyif

It is said that he also participated in the battles of Wādī al-Qurā, Ghābah and Banī Nađīr.

He ﷺ sent smaller sorties on about fifty expeditions.[44]

[43] Editors' Note: There is a variance in the manuscripts that we have examined between Khaybar and Ĥunayn; and we have listed both here; as the Prophet ﷺ participated in these two wars; Imām Ibn Ĥajar attests in Fat'ĥ al-Bārī [narrating] from Mūsā ibn Áqabah that RasūlAllāh ﷺ participated in eight wars. Allāh táālā knows best.

PILGRIMAGE

He ﷺ went on Ĥajj, the major pilgrimage only once after it became obligatory; and [he had been to pilgrimage] twice prior to this.

He ﷺ set out for the farewell pilgrimage in the day; he ﷺ oiled and combed his hair, perfumed his clothes and stayed overnight in Dhu'l Ĥulayfah.[45] [About which] he ﷺ said: Last night, a herald came to me from my Lord and said: "Pray in this blessed valley and say: I intend for úmrah[46] and Ĥajj".[47] So he ﷺ donned the iĥram[48] for [doing] both pilgrimages together.[49]

He ﷺ entered Makkah on Sunday morning from the two rising hills; and performed the ṭawāf[50] of arrival. In three of the rounds he ﷺ did ramal[51] and walked at ease in the rest of the four. He ﷺ proceeded to Ṣafā and made the circuit[52] on a mount.

[52] Saýī or the circuit is a rite in the pilgrimage – to go from Ṣafā to Marwā and back again seven times; starting from Ṣafā and ending at Marwā.

He ﷺ then ordered those who could not muster a sacrifice[53] to suspend the ĥajj and end their iĥrām with the úmrah; he ﷺ camped on the ridge of the Ĥajūn hill.

On the eighth day of Dhu'l Ĥijjah,[54] he ﷺ set out to Minā. He ﷺ prayed Żuhr, Áşr, Maghrib, Íshā, and stayed there overnight; he ﷺ also prayed Fajr of the following morning there.

After sunrise, he ﷺ went to Árafah and a tent was erected for him ﷺ at Namirah. He ﷺ stayed there until the sun began to descend,[55] and he ﷺ gave a sermon; he ﷺ prayed in congregation and combined both prayers of early and late afternoon. They were both prayed with just one adhān[56] but a separate iqāmah.[57] He ﷺ then went to the Place of Standing [in Árafah] and stood there supplicating and glorifying his ﷺ Lord Almighty, and proclaiming His greatness[58] until the sun had set.

He ﷺ returned to Muzdalifah after sunset and stayed there overnight and prayed the Fajr of the following morning there. He ﷺ then stood at Mashár al-Ĥarām, until a little after sunrise.[59]

He ﷺ returned to Minā before sunrise. [Thereafter,] he ﷺ stoned the devil at Jamarah al-Áqabah,[60] casting seven pebbles. On the remaining three days of Tashrīq, he ﷺ went on foot, to stone the devil, and he ﷺ cast seven pebbles in each of the three stoning places. [On the remaining three days,] he ﷺ started from the smaller stoning place adjacent to Khayf,[61] and then the middle one, and then the Jamarah al-Áqabah.

He made lengthy supplications at the first and the second place.

He ﷺ offered the sacrifice, the very day he ﷺ returned to Mina[62] and then went to [Makkah, where he ﷺ made the obligatory][63] Ţawāf al-Ifāđah; he ﷺ made the circumambulation seven times and then went to the well [of Zamzam] and drank from it. He ﷺ then came back to Minā.

He ﷺ left [Minā] on the third day[64] and camped in Muĥaşşab. Sayyidah Āýishah ﵂ did the úmrah [starting from] Tanýīm.

RasūlAllāh ﷺ then ordered [the company] to prepare for departure.

[60] Jamarah, Jamarāt (pl.): These are three places between Minā and Makkah; and a symbolic stoning of the devil is a ritual in Ĥajj. The stoning place (Jamarah) closer to Makkah is the Jamarah al-Áqabah (The Greater Stoning Place); the middle is Jamarah al-Wusţā (The Middle Stoning Place); and the one closer to Minā is Jamarah al-Şughrā (The Smaller Stoning Place).

[63] The circuit of the Kábah after returning from Árafah on the 10th is an obligatory ritual in the ĥajj. This is known as Ţawāf al-Ziyārah or Ţawāf al-Ifāđah.

He ﷺ did the Ṭawāf al-Wadāá[65] and set out to Madīnah.

RasūlAllāh ﷺ did úmrah four times [other than the one during ĥajj] and all the four were performed in Dhu'l Qaádah.

HIS ﷺ PHYSICAL ATTRIBUTES

RasūlAllāh ﷺ was of medium height and had broad shoulders.

He ﷺ was fair and was sanguine-white in complexion. His ﷺ hair would reach his earlobes. There were no more than twenty grey hairs in both his [blessed] head and beard. His face was radiant and shone like the full moon. He ﷺ was immensely beautiful to behold.

He ﷺ was the epitome of dignity, when he kept silent; and when he ﷺ spoke, there was an effusion of splendour and awe. From afar, he appeared the most handsome of all; graceful and elegant. And so too from near; he was the most beautiful, handsome, comely and pleasant.

His ﷺ speech was sweet and his forehead ample.[66] His eyebrows [thin and] long, and they were not joined;[67] his nose was aquiline – thin and straight; his cheeks were soft, he had a full mouth and his teeth were spotless white and sparkling. There was a small and narrow gap[68] between his two front teeth.

[66] Apart from the physical attractiveness of an ample forehead, there are also other connotations. In Arabic, the same description is used to signify an amiable person and one with pleasant nature; and negates frowning and scowling. Thus was RasūlAllāh ﷺ, always smiling and a gracious countenance to behold.

[67] Though they appeared to be joined when observed from a very close range, they were apart when viewed from a sitting distance. Regardless, this is to negate synophyrs or a unibrow. Allāh táālā knows best.

[68] This was a very narrow separation that enhanced the natural beauty of his blessed teeth; or that the teeth were slightly curved in the lower portion of the front teeth such that a small opening is formed when the upper teeth sit on the lower ones, which is a mark of attractive teeth. It may not have been diastema; regardless, it was certainly beautiful as RasūlAllāh ﷺ was the most perfect human being and the most beautiful in the creation.

The Seal of Prophethood was between his shoulders [on his back] and the person who described his ﷺ beauty said: "I had not seen anyone more handsome than him ﷺ before, and I never saw anyone like him ﷺ after him."

HIS ﷺ NAMES

RasūlAllāh ﷺ has many names, as he ﷺ has himself said:

> I am Muĥammad,[69]
> I am Aĥmad,[70]
> I am Māĥīy, the Effacer; by whom Allāh táālā effaces disbelief,
> I am Ĥāshir, the Gatherer as people will be gathered and assembled by my feet in the hereafter, > and I am Áāqib, the Ultimate; and there is no prophet after me.[71]

In another narration:[72]

> I am Muqaffī [or Muqaffā],[73] the last in the line of prophets,
> I am Nabiyu't Tawbah, the Prophet who brings redemption,
> I am Nabiyu'r Raĥmah, the Prophet of Mercy.

[73] Muqaffi from qaffā meaning 'one who came on the trail of previous prophets [i.e., in tawĥīd and noble character] and was the last to follow'. Muqaffā means 'Allāh táālā sent him as the last prophet and with him ended their trail' [Muntahā al-Sūl, 1/149, Laĥjī]. As mentioned in the verse: "They are the ones whom Allāh has guided; so walk ye, in their path of guidance." [Sūrah Anáām, 6:90]

أُولَٰئِكَ الَّذِينَ هَدَى اللَّهُ فَبِهُدَاهُمُ اقْتَدِهْ

In a report found in Ṣaĥīĥ Muslim:

Nabiyyu'l Malĥamah, the Prophet of War.[74]

Allāh táālā has given him ﷺ the following names in His Holy Book:

Bashīr, the Harbinger, the bearer of glad tidings;

Nadhīr, the Warner of punishment and Allāh's wrath;

Sirāj, the Light of guidance;

Mūnīr, the Illuminated;

Ra'ūf, the Kind;

Raĥīm, the Merciful;

Raĥmatun li'l Áālamīn, Mercy to all worlds;

Muĥammad, the Praised One;

Aĥmad, the Praising One;

Ṭā hā;

Yāsīn;

---

[74] Editors' Note: We did not find this in Ṣaĥīĥ Muslim, though Ibn Ĥibbān claimed thusly. Here, it may sound contradictory that he is said to be both a Prophet of Mercy and and a Prophet of War; Állāmah Laĥjī in his Muntahā as-Sūl cites a beautiful explanation from Khaṭṭābī: "That he was sent with war and sword, is actually a form of mercy. Because it was the way of Allāh táālā to hasten punishment when they belied prophets of previous nations and were exterminated; and his ﷺ community was given the mercy that they were not exterminated, but rather given a chance to revert from their disbelief – even if it was under the fear of the sword."

Muzzammīl, the Cloaked One;

Muddath'thir, he who is wrapped in his mantle;

and Ábd, His Slave, as Allāh táālā has said:

سُبۡحَٰنَ ٱلَّذِيٓ أَسۡرَىٰ بِعَبۡدِهِۦ لَيۡلٗا

Glory to Him, who took His slave on a journey in a part of the night[75]

وَأَنَّهُۥ لَمَّا قَامَ عَبۡدُ ٱللَّهِ يَدۡعُوهُ

And when His slave stood beseeching Him[76]

Allāh táālā has named him ﷺ Nadhīru'l Mubīn, a Manifest Warner:

وَقُلۡ إِنِّيٓ أَنَا ٱلنَّذِيرُ ٱلۡمُبِينُ

And say: Verily I am a Manifest Warner [77]

And named him ﷺ Mudhakkīr, The Reminder, as He has said:

إِنَّمَآ أَنتَ مُذَكِّرٞ

Verily you are the one who reminds; [78]

Many other names have also been mentioned elsewhere.[79] Most of these names are descriptions of his ﷺ attributes.

HIS ﷺ LOFTY CHARACTER

Sayyidah Āýishah ؓ was asked about his ﷺ character, and she said: 'His character was the Qur'ān.' He ﷺ was angered or pleased only for the sake of his Lord. He ﷺ did not avenge for his own self, nor become angry for personal reasons. However, when someone transgressed limits, he ﷺ would be angry only for the sake of his Lord. And when he ﷺ was angry, no one could dare to stand in his presence.

He ﷺ was the bravest, the most generous and the most magnanimous of men. He ﷺ never said 'No', to anything that was asked of him.

He ﷺ did not store any gold or silver;[80] he ﷺ would not even keep it for a night; if something had remained and was not given to someone by nightfall, he ﷺ would not come home until he ﷺ had found someone deserving and had handed it to them.

He ﷺ would not take more than what was necessary for the sustenance of his family for a year; and such a provision would be quite an ordinary one, comprising of dates and wheat. He ﷺ would give charity from this too, and sometimes it would so happen that his provision would be consumed before the end of the year.

He ﷺ was the most truthful of men, and the most righteous in speech; he ﷺ was the most trustworthy, the most courteous with people and the most honourable in transactions and upright in society.

He ﷺ was the most forebearing of men, and also the most bashful and modest – he was more bashful than a veiled maiden.

His gaze was always lowered [out of bashfulness and humility] and he looked at the earth more often than he ﷺ would cast his sight towards the sky. When he ﷺ looked at anything, it would usually be a quick glance.

He ﷺ was exceptional in his humility; he ﷺ accepted invitations from everyone, whether from the rich or the poor, freeman or a slave.

He ﷺ was the kindest of men; he would place a bowl for the cat to drink from [and wait] and would not take it away until it had drunk its fill, out of kindness to the cat.

He ﷺ was the most chaste of men, and the foremost in honouring and being considerate with companions. He ﷺ would not stretch his legs when he was seated in the midst [of others] and he would make room for others [by moving] if the place was crowded. He ﷺ would sit such that his knees would not touch another person in the assembly.

Whoever saw him ﷺ suddenly, would be awestruck; and if he remained in his company, he would begin to love him ﷺ.

His ﷺ companions would be around him often; when he spoke – they would remain silent, listening to him with rapt attention; when he ﷺ bade them do something, they would rush to fulfil his command. When he ﷺ met with someone, he ﷺ would be the first to greet with salām.

He ﷺ was courteous with his companions and would miss those who were absent; he would ask about them – and if they were unwell, he ﷺ would visit them; and if someone was away,[81] he ﷺ would pray for them; and when any of them died, he ﷺ would do istirjāá[82] and pray for those who had died.

If someone was afraid that something would befall them [on the way], he ﷺ would accompany them to their doorstep. He ﷺ would visit the gardens of his ﷺ companions and accept their hospitality and eat with them. He ﷺ would engage [and speak] with respectable folk and honour people of merit; yet, he ﷺ never turned away from anybody, nor was he supercilious with anyone. When someone asked for forgiveness, he ﷺ would accept their excuse and would readily forgive them. The strong and the weak, concerning their rights, were equal in his ﷺ presence.

He ﷺ did not allow anyone to walk behind him ﷺ and he ﷺ would say: "Leave my back for the angels."

He ﷺ would not allow anyone to walk by the side, when he ﷺ was riding; he ﷺ would urge them to ride with him, and if they declined he ﷺ would say: "Hasten towards where you wish to go".

He ﷺ would serve those who served him; he ﷺ owned slaves and slavegirls, but he ﷺ never withheld anything from them or considered himself above others[83] in anything; whether in food, drink or clothing [he shared everything with them].

[82] Istirjāá is to utter the prayer: "We belong to Allāh táālā and to Him is our return" which is said by those who are close to the deceased. Here it indicates his ﷺ concern for his ﷺ companions and how much he ﷺ cared for them.

Sayyidunā Anas ﷺ says: "I was in the service of RasūlAllāh ﷺ for ten years, and by Allāh! I was in his company and attended to him at all times, whether he ﷺ was at home or when he was travelling; he ﷺ served me more than I would serve him. He ﷺ never reprimanded [anyone] harshly, or even said 'Alas!' He ﷺ never asked, 'Why did you do so?' for something I did; nor did he ﷺ ask, 'Why did you not do so?' for something that I did not do.

Once RasūlAllāh ﷺ was on a journey, and he ﷺ asked his companions to cook a lamb for dinner. One of them said: "O Messenger of Allāh! I will slaughter it." Another said: "I will skin it." Another said: "I will cook it," RasūlAllāh ﷺ said: "Then, I shall gather firewood." His ﷺ companions said: "O RasūlAllāh! We will take care of it [and you need not trouble yourself]." RasūlAllāh ﷺ told them: "I know that you will take care of everything. But I do not like to be distinguished and be privileged amongst you. Verily Allāh táālā does not like that slave of His who wishes to be distinct among his companions." So he ﷺ rose and went to gather firewood.

Once during a journey, the caravan stopped for prayer. [Just before standing for prayer] he ﷺ turned to go back. He ﷺ was asked: "O Messenger of Allāh, where do you wish to go?" He ﷺ replied: "To tie my camel." His companions said: "We shall tie it for you, O Messenger of Allah" and he said: "Be self-reliant; and do not ask for help, even for [as little as] a twig".[84]

[84] Both the printed edition and the manuscript mention "lā yastaýin" even though, in most narrations it is simply: 'la-yastaghni / be self-reliant'. See Bayhaqī's Shuáb al-Īmān, #3252. The idiom: qađmatin min siwāk, means 'howsoever insignificant'.

He ﷺ neither sat nor stood up without first mentioning his Lord. When he ﷺ went into a room full of people, he ﷺ would sit at the back[85] and would ask his followers to do the same. He ﷺ would be courteous to every person in the audience, such that every one of them felt special, as if he were the most honoured person in that gathering.

If someone came to sit with him, he ﷺ would not leave until that person himself rose to leave – except when he ﷺ had to go somewhere and could not delay; in which case, he ﷺ would take the person's leave.

Nobody could face RasūlAllāh ﷺ with something that he ﷺ did not like.

He ﷺ did not retribute evil with evil; rather, he ﷺ would pardon [anyone] and forgive.

RasūlAllāh ﷺ visited the sick, loved the poor, sat with them and attended their funerals; he ﷺ never despised a poor man on account of his poverty, nor admired a rich man on account of his wealth. He ﷺ cherished and thanked for everything he received, howsoever little – and he never denigrated or belittled anything.

He ﷺ never criticised food; if he ﷺ liked something, he ﷺ would eat it; and if he ﷺ did not like it, he would simply avoid it.

He ﷺ was amiable with his neighbours and honoured his guests. He ﷺ would always be smiling and was cordial with everyone. He ﷺ did not do anything that was not for the sake of Allāh táālā; except such chores which were inevitable. If he ﷺ had to choose between two things, he ﷺ would choose the easiest of the two – except when the easier choice would result in transgression or severing relation; and he ﷺ was the farthest from doing such a thing.[86]

[85] Lit. 'at the end of the assembly.' Because when one arrives after people are already sitting, the only place left would be in the back.

He ﷺ would mend his own shoes and sew the tears in his clothes.

He ﷺ would ride a horse, a mule or a donkey; and make his slaves or others to ride with him ﷺ on the pillion. He ﷺ would [sometimes] wipe the face of his horse with his sleeve or the corner of his mantle.

He ﷺ appreciated favourable signs, but disliked augury.

If something occurred that pleased him, he ﷺ would say: "Praise be to Allāh, the Lord of all worlds."[87]

If something happened that displeased him, he ﷺ would say: "Praise be to Allāh always, and in every state and condition."[88]

When dishes were taken away [after food,] he ﷺ would say: "Praise be to Allāh, who has given us food, drink and shelter; and He has made us Muslims."[89]

He ﷺ would usually sit facing the Qiblah, and would remember his Lord often; his ﷺ prayers would be lengthy and his sermons would be short.

He ﷺ would do istighfār,[90] one hundred times in a single sitting. Sometimes when he ﷺ prayed, gasps would be heard arising from his chest, similar to a person stifling his sobs.

He ﷺ would fast on Mondays[91] and on Thursdays; on three days of every month, and on the day of Áāshūrā.[92] He would not miss fasting [from the days he usually fasted] even if it fell on a Friday.[93] Most of his supererogatory fasts were in the month of Shábān.

His ﷺ sleep was such that his eyes would sleep, but his heart would be awake, in anticipation of revelation. If he ﷺ saw something in his dream that he ﷺ disliked, he ﷺ would say: "Allāh is He [the only God]; and who hath no partner."[94] When he ﷺ went to bed, he ﷺ would say: "O my Lord! Protect me from your torment on the day you bring forth your slaves [from their graves.]"[95] Upon waking, he ﷺ would say: "Praise be to Allāh; He has given us life after death and we shall be assembled in His Presence."[96]

[91] In a ĥadīth of Muslim, he ﷺ was asked why he ﷺ fasted on Mondays, and he ﷺ replied: "Because I was born on that day". RasūlAllāh ﷺ himself commemorated the day of his birth; this is the proof from sunnah for the validity of celebrating his mawlid.

[93] Lit. "He hardly missed fasting on Fridays" from the ĥadīth of Tirmidhī #742. Ibn Ĥajar says that it may mean that he did not avoid fasting on Friday if one of the usual fasts fell on that day, such as the 13th, 14th and 15th of every month, etc. [Fat'ĥ al-Bārī, #1984].

HIS ﷺ FOOD AND DRINK

He ﷺ did not partake from alms and charity; but he ﷺ would partake from gifts and give those who gave him gifts something in return.

His ﷺ food was neither sumptuous nor extravagant.

Sometimes, he ﷺ would tie stones upon his belly, to suppress hunger.[97] Allāh táālā had offered him ﷺ the keys of all the treasures of this earth; but he ﷺ did not accept them, and he ﷺ chose the hereafter instead.

He ﷺ would eat bread with vinegar and he ﷺ has said: "What a splendid sauce vinegar is!"

RasūlAllāh ﷺ has eaten the flesh of chicken and houbara.[98]

He ﷺ savoured calabash[99] and was fond of shoulder meat.[100]

He ﷺ would use [olive] oil in food; and use this oil in his hair; and he ﷺ has said: "Use [olive] oil for food and to oil your hair; as it comes from a blessed tree."

He ﷺ would eat with three fingers and would lick them [afterward].[101]

[101] Out of modesty and to indicate that it was opposed to vanity and pride.

He ﷺ has eaten [Arabic] bread[102] made of barley together with dates; he has also eaten watermelon coupled with fresh dates, cucumber with fresh dates, and dates with cream. He ﷺ loved sweets and honey.

He ﷺ would always drink seated; sometimes he ﷺ would drink standing up; and he would drink in three draughts, parting the glass from his lips every time.

He ﷺ always started from the right side, when he ﷺ passed [the chalice of] milk to drink; or when he ﷺ drank it himself.[103]

RasūlAllāh ﷺ said: When one partakes from the food Allāh táālā has given, he should say: "O Allāh! Make our food blessed and give us food better than this."[104] And when Allāh táālā gives him milk, he should say: "O Allāh! Make our drink blessed and increase it for us."[105]

He ﷺ has said: "Nothing can compensate for both food and drink except milk".

HIS ﷺ DRESS

He ﷺ would wear clothes made of wool. He ﷺ would wear layered shoes.[106] He ﷺ did not wear ostentatious or grandiose clothes.

The Ĥibarah,[107] a type of Yemenite cloak with red and white stripes, was most beloved to him among apparel.

Among garments, the qamīṣ,[108] was most beloved to him.

When he ﷺ wore new clothes, he ﷺ would say: "O Allāh! I praise you for clothing me. I ask you for its goodness and the goodness for which it was made; I seek your refuge from its evil; and the evil apportioned for it."[109]

He ﷺ liked green garments.

Sometimes he ﷺ would wear only the lower garment[110] without anything else and tie its two ends between the shoulders.[111]

[107] Dāwūdī says: Ĥibarah is green garment; [and he ﷺ loved it because] they are a reminder of garments in paradise. Ibn Battal said: Ĥibarah are cotton mantles from Yemen, and used to be highly regarded by them. Qurṭubī said: It is known as Ĥibarah because it is a synonym for decorated, and beautified. [Fat'Ĥ al-Bārī]

[108] Shirt

[110] izār: it is the lower garment and is unstitched cloth tied at the waist; some have said that it is the lower garment and starting from the middle of the torso; that which covers the shoulders and back (another unstitched piece of cloth) is known as ridā. [Tāj al-Árūs]

[111] According to one description it is wrapped such that lower half of the torso is covered; and this narration in the text reinforces that view. Allāh táālā knows best.

On Fridays, he ﷺ would don a reddish[112] cloak and wear a turban.

He ﷺ would wear a silver signet ring which had the inscription "Muĥammad, the Messenger of Allāh" engraved in it; he ﷺ would wear it on the little finger of his right hand; and sometimes on his left hand.

He ﷺ loved perfumes.

He ﷺ disliked foul odours and offensive smells and he ﷺ has said: "Verily Allāh táālā has made pleasing to me, women and perfume; and has made prayer, the coolness of my eyes".

He ﷺ would use Ghāliyah;[113] sometimes, he would use pure musk.

He ﷺ would also perfume himself with fumes of oud and camphor.

He ﷺ used to wear kohl made from stibnite;[114] he ﷺ would apply[115] thrice in his right eye and twice in his left eye; he ﷺ would also apply kohl when he ﷺ was fasting.

[114] Stibnite, a mineral containing antimony. Ithmid, in Arabic. Various studies that establish kohl as hazardous to eyes, explain that it is because of the lead content. In a study by Carol Parry and Joseph Eaton: "Much of the literature on the Middle East and Arab cultural habits that mentions kohl identifies it as ground antimony. However, testing consistently found antimony levels of less than 0.1%. Excavations in the Middle East and Africa have frequently turned up ancient eye makeup containers, which occasionally have contained makeup. When tested, some of these eye makeups were composed primarily of ground antimony."

He ﷺ would oil his hair and his beard.

When he ﷺ applied oil, he did so in privacy,[116] and applied kohl an odd number of times.

He ﷺ liked to begin from the right[117] in combing his hair or wearing his footwear; in ritual cleaning[118] and everything that he ﷺ did – he ﷺ always preferred to start from the right side.

He ﷺ would also use a mirror.

He ﷺ never travelled without the following: a flacon of oil, a vial of kohl, a mirror, a comb, a pair of scissors, a toothbrush (miswāk,) a needle and thread. He ﷺ would brush[119] his teeth three times before he ﷺ went to bed and after waking from sleep, during his prayers in the night, and when he ﷺ set out for the morning prayer.

He ﷺ also had cupping done on him.[120]

[116] He was very modest and bashful; in another Ĥadīth, it is mentioned that he would groom his hair only in private.

[117] Tayammun

HUMOUR

He ﷺ would sometimes jest; yet, he ﷺ always spoke the truth.

A woman came to RasūlAllāh ﷺ once and said: 'O Messenger of Allāh, make me ride on a camel.' RasūlAllāh ﷺ said: 'I will make you ride on the calf of a she-camel.'[121] The woman said: 'But it will not bear my weight.' People then explained it to her: 'Is there any camel that is not the calf of a she-camel?'

Another woman came to RasūlAllāh ﷺ and said: 'My husband is ill and requests you to visit him.' RasūlAllāh ﷺ told her: 'Perhaps, your husband is that person whose eyes have whites?' The woman returned home and tried to pry open her husband's eyes who was sleeping. [Startled,] the man exclaimed: 'What is wrong with you woman?' She said: 'RasūlAllāh ﷺ told me that there is whiteness in your eyes.' The man said: 'How naïve you are! Is there anyone who does not have whites in their eyes?'

Another woman told him: 'Ya RasūlAllāh, pray to Allāh that He makes me to enter paradise.' He ﷺ told her: 'O lady,[122] old maids will not enter paradise.' The old lady went back weeping. RasūlAllāh ﷺ told to his companions, 'Go and tell her that she will not enter paradise as an old maid as Allāh táālā has said –

Diĥyah ibn Khalīfah al-Kalbī ﷺ was the emissary to Caesar, the king of Rome, whose name was Hercules. He recognised (and acknowledged) the prophethood of RasūlAllāh ﷺ and he contemplated accepting Islām, but the Romans [Christians] opposed him. He feared their displeasure and held back from becoming a Muslim.

Ábdullāh ibn Ĥudhāfah al-Sahmī ﷺ was the emissary to Chosroes, the king of Persians – may Allāh's damnation be upon him. He tore the letter of RasūlAllāh ﷺ and [when the news reached] he ﷺ said: 'May Allāh táālā cleave his kingdom and rend it asunder'.

Shujāá ibn Wahb al-Asadiy ﷺ was sent to Ĥārith ibn Abū Shamir al-Ghassānī, the king of Levant. He flung the message of RasūlAllāh ﷺ and said, 'I shall invade him.' Caesar stopped him from attempting to do so.

[153] Editors' Note: Ṣāliĥ al-Shāmī has mentioned sixteen horses in Subul al-Hudā wa'r Rashād; the names of seven are agreed upon and included in this list.

[156] RasūlAllāh ﷺ bought this horse from someone and he disputed it. Khuzaymah gave witness in favour of RasūlAllāh ﷺ; and he ﷺ asked: 'How can you bear witness when you were not present with us?' He said: 'O Messenger of Allāh! I bore witness in your favour because I have believed in your message, and I believe that you speak nothing but the truth.' RasūlAllāh ﷺ said: 'Khuzaymah's witness is sufficient for anyone – for or against.' [Usd al-Ghābah, #1446]

[157] Or Lakhīf; mentioned with both ĥā and khā (without and with a dot)

Mulāwiĥ and Sab'Ĥah – which participated in a race and this horse won the race; RasūlAllāh ﷺ was pleased by this.

[158] liqĤah

He ﷺ had another she-camel named Jadáā'a. This is the camel that fell behind in a race and because of which Muslims were saddened.[159] RasūlAllāh ﷺ said: 'It is a law of Allāh, and befitting, that whatever rises in this world should wane and decline.'[160] It is also said that the losing camel was another one.

Three swords came from the campaign of Banū Qaynuqāá:

> Qalaýī,

HIS ﷺ CLOTHES AND POSSESSIONS

When RasūlAllāh ﷺ passed away from this world, he left behind two Ĥibarah mantles, an Omani lower-garment,[178] two Ṣuhārī cloaks, a Ṣuhārī shirt, another SuĤūlī[179] shirt, a Yemeni Jubbah,[180] and napkin;[181] a white cloak, three or four tight-fitting skull caps, and a dyed[182] blanket.[183]

He ﷺ had a pouch in which he kept his ivory comb, a vial of kohl, a pair of scissors and a toothbrush.

His ﷺ bed was made of leather filled with palm fibres. He ﷺ had a goblet reinforced[184] with silver scraps in three places; and another goblet.[185]

He ﷺ had a basin made of stone.[186] He ﷺ had a brass vessel in which he ﷺ would mix Henna and Katam[187] and apply this mixture to his ﷺ head.

[186] It is said that he ﷺ used this to do wuđū.

[187] Katam is a plant found in Yemen whose extract gives a burgundy dye and the colour of Henna is red. The dye becomes reddish-black when both are mixed [Fat'Ĥ al-Bārī].

He ﷺ also had a goblet of glass, and a bucket made of brass.

He ﷺ also had a cauldron;[188] and a measure which he ﷺ used to measure [grain] given as charity during Eid al-Fiṭr; and another smaller measuring vessel.[189]

He ﷺ had a couch and a velvet quilt.[190]

He ﷺ had a signet ring made of silver, and its bezel was also made of silver[191] with the words 'Muĥammad, Messenger of Allāh' engraved upon it. It is also said that it was a steel ring gilded with silver.

Najāshī had presented him with a pair of plain socks, which he ﷺ would wear [sometimes].

He ﷺ had a black cloak, and a turban named Saĥāb, which he ﷺ gifted to Álī; sometimes, when he ﷺ saw Álī wearing it, he ﷺ would say: 'Álī comes to you on a cloud'.[192]

He ﷺ had two garments for Fridays, apart from those he ﷺ usually wore on other days. He ﷺ had a towel which he ﷺ would use to wipe his ﷺ blessed face after ablution.

SOME OF HIS ﷺ MIRACLES

The Qur'ān is the greatest miracle brought by him ﷺ.

The cleaving of his ﷺ chest.[193]

His ﷺ informing [the Meccans] about Jerusalem.[194]

His ﷺ splitting the moon.

When a cabal of Quraysh conspired to kill him ﷺ and surrounded his house, he ﷺ appeared in front of them, but they were blinded; their chins drooped to their chests [and they didn't see him] even though, he ﷺ was standing in front of them. He ﷺ picked up a handful of gravel and said: "Disgraced are these faces," and threw it upon their heads. Whosoever was hit by gravel that day was slayed on the day of Badr.

In the battle of Ĥunayn, he ﷺ threw a handful of dust in the faces of the enemy fighters and Allāh táālā caused them to be vanquished.

A spider spun its web at the entrance of the cave.[195]

That which transpired with Surāqah ibn Mālik when he pursued RasūlAllāh ﷺ during his migration; his horse sank into solid ground.

He ﷺ passed his blessed hand on the back of a young she-goat that had never mated, and it began to give milk.

And the ewe of Umm Maábad [which gave milk copiously after being touched by RasūlAllāh ﷺ]

He ﷺ prayed to Allāh táālā to strengthen Islām by Sayyidunā Úmar.

His ﷺ prayer to ward off heat and cold from Sayyidunā Álī.

RasūlAllāh ﷺ daubed his saliva on Sayyidunā Álī's sore eye and he was cured immediately; his eye never suffered soreness thereafter.

He ﷺ restored the eye of Qatādah ibn Númān after it had popped out and flowed to his cheek; and this eye became his brighter eye.

He ﷺ prayed to Allāh táālā to bestow upon Ábdullāh ibn Ábbās, the meaning of the Qur'ān and knowledge of the religion.

He ﷺ prayed for Jabir's camel and it became the swiftest animal; prior to the prayer, it was the slowest in the convoy.

And he ﷺ prayed for increase [barakah] in the dates of Jābir, by which he repaid his lenders; thirteen piles of dates were still left over [after repayment of his loan].

He ﷺ prayed for rain and it rained for a week, and then they asked him to pray for the rain to subside – and when he ﷺ prayed, the clouds vanished and the skies became clear.

He ﷺ prayed for the punishment of Útbah, the son of Abū Lahab and a lion devoured him in Zarqā'a in the Levant.

A tree bore witness that he ﷺ was the Messenger of Allāh, in the report of the bedouin whom RasūlAllāh ﷺ invited to Islām. The bedouin asked: "Do you have any witness for what you say?" RasūlAllāh ﷺ said, "Yes.

This tree," and he ﷺ beckoned the tree to come. The tree came walking to him and bore witness three times; and then returned to its place.

Once, he ﷺ commanded two trees separated by a distance to join; they came together and then separated again by his command. He ﷺ sent a person to bring palm trees and to tell the trees: "RasūlAllāh ﷺ bids you both to join together." RasūlAllāh ﷺ relieved himself and then ordered them to go back to their places.

Once, he ﷺ was resting and a tree came towards him cleaving the earth; when he ﷺ woke up, he ﷺ was informed of this and he ﷺ said: "This tree sought permission of the Lord to come and salute me; it was granted permission."

Rocks and trees saluted him the night before he ﷺ received revelation: 'as-salāmu álayka yā RasūlAllāh,' and this was indicated by RasūlAllāh ﷺ when he said: "I recognise the rock in Makkah that saluted me before revelation."

A block of wood wept, pining for him ﷺ.

Pebbles in his ﷺ fist uttered the glorification of Allāh. So also food [uttered tasbīĥ]. A piece of cooked lamb informed him that it had been poisoned.

A camel complained to him ﷺ of [its master that he gave her] less fodder and made it work harder. A gazelle requested him ﷺ to set her free so that it could nourish its kid and return; so he ﷺ set her free – and the deer pronounced the two shahadah.[196]

He ﷺ informed of the very places where polytheists would be slain in Badr; none of them missed those [marked] places.

He ﷺ foretold that a group of his followers would sail in the sea for a holy war; and that Umm Ḥarām bint Milḥān would be with them; and thus it came to pass.

He ﷺ told Úthmān: "You will suffer intense tribulation" and it transpired as he ﷺ had foretold, and Sayyidunā Úthmān was martyred in his own house.

He ﷺ told the Anṣār: "Verily you will be oppressed after me." And thus it happened in the time of Muáāwiyah.[197]

He ﷺ said about Ḥasan: "This son of mine is a sayyid.[198] Allāh táālā will make him the means for reconciliation and peace between two great armies of Muslims."

He ﷺ informed of the slaying of Ánsiyy the liar, the very night he was slain and the name of the person who slayed him.

He ﷺ told Thābit ibn Qays: "Live well and die a martyr." And he was martyred in Yamāmah.

A man became an apostate and joined the polytheists. News reached RasūlAllāh ﷺ that he had died, and he ﷺ said: "The earth will not accept him." And thus it happened.

[197] Because the administrators and governors of Sayyidunā Muáāwiyah ﷺ were unjust with the people of Madīnah.

He ﷺ told a man eating with his left hand: "Eat with your right." He said, "I am not able to do so." He ﷺ said "Yes, you are not able." And the man could not lift his right hand up to his mouth ever again.

He ﷺ entered Makkah after Victory and idols were hanging on the Kábah; he ﷺ had a cane in his hand with which he ﷺ pointed to the idols and said: "Truth has come and falsehood vanquished." And the idols fell.

The story of Mázin ibn Ghađūbah al-Ṭāyī,[199] Sawād ibn Qārib[200] and others like them.

A lizard bore witness that he ﷺ was the Messenger of Allāh.

During the Battle of the Trench, he ﷺ fed a thousand warriors with only a ṣāá[201] of wheat and a few dates – they were all satiated as the food increased immensely. He ﷺ put together food that was available and covered it with a rug and prayed for increase; and then the food was distributed to the whole army and it sufficed.

Abū Hurayrah once came to him with a few dates in his hand and asked RasūlAllāh ﷺ to pray for an increase (and blessing) in them. He ﷺ prayed and Abū Hurayrah ؓ says: "I have given from these dates such and such a pile in the way of Allāh; and we would eat from it and feed others from it until they were lost during the caliphate of Sayyidunā Úthmān".

[199] In short: He was a priest guarding idols; he heard the idol giving him news of the advent of the Prophet ﷺ. The man broke the idol and joined the Prophet ﷺ.

[200] He was a soothsayer who was informed by a genie about the advent of the Prophet ﷺ.

[201] A measure about half a bushel or so.

He ﷺ once prayed over a bowl of porridge[202] for the People of the Bench.[203] Abū Hurayrah ؓ says: "I stood up hitching myself, expecting him to call me when everybody stood up; the bowl did not have much and there were only crumbs pasted around the bowl. RasūlAllāh ﷺ gathered it and it became a mouthful; he ﷺ picked it in his fingers and said: "Eat, in the name of Allāh." Abū Hurayrah says: "By Him, in whose Hands my life rests – I kept eating from it until I was fully sated".

Once, water spouted from his ﷺ blessed fingers and a host of men drank from it and made ablutions. They were a thousand and four hundred men in all.

Once, a glass of water was brought to RasūlAllāh ﷺ. He put his four fingers in it and said: "Come!" and all present made ablutions – and they were seventy or eighty in number.

During the Battle of Tabūk, the companions passed by water which would not quench the thirst of even a single person; and people were intensely thirsty. They complained to him ﷺ of this. So RasūlAllāh ﷺ took an arrow from his quiver and planted it; water gushed out and a multitude used the water – and they were thirty thousand men.

A group of people complained to RasūlAllāh ﷺ about the salinity of water in their well; RasūlAllāh ﷺ came to one of his companions, stood at the well and spat in it. The water of that well turned sweet and soft.

A woman came to him ﷺ with her bald child; and RasūlAllāh ﷺ stroked the boy's head – his hair grew and the disease disappeared. The news of this miracle reached the people of Yamāmah. A woman took her child to Musaylamah[204] and he touched the head of that child – that child became bald and baldness remained in his offspring.

The sword of Úkkāshah[205] was broken in the Battle of Badr; RasūlAllāh ﷺ gave him a lath, which became a sword in Úkkāshah's hand; it remained with him forever.

In the Battle of the Trench, when the trenches were being dug, a rock posed great difficulty as it was unmoved by hoes and pickaxes. RasūlAllāh ﷺ hit it once and it was pulverised.

He ﷺ touched the broken leg of Abū Rāfiý, and it was repaired instantly, as if nothing had happened to it.

The miracles of RasūlAllāh ﷺ are so many that all[206] of them cannot be listed in one small volume.

[205] Úkkāshah ibn Miĥṣan al-Asadiy, was a prominent muhājir companion; this lath sword was named Áwn; he was martyred in the war against apostates during the rule of Abū Bakr al-Ṣiddīq رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُ [Usd al-Ghābah, #3732].

[206] Editors' Note: A comprehensive collection of his miracles has been compiled by Állāmah Yūsuf an-Nab'hānī in his book: Ĥujjatu'llāhi álā al-Áālamīn fī Mújizāti Sayyidi'l Mursalīn.

HIS ﷺ PASSING AWAY

RasūlAllāh ﷺ passed away from this world, at the age of sixty-three, on Monday,[207] at noon on the 12th of Rabiý al-Awwal; after being unwell for fourteen days. He ﷺ was interred on Wednesday.

When his last moments were near, he ﷺ would dip his hand in a bowl at his bedside, and wipe his blessed face with the water in it and say: "O Allāh! Aid me [and comfort me] in the throes of death".[208]

Sayyidah Fāţimah ﷺ said: "Oh, the agony! The agony of your suffering, my father!"

RasūlAllāh ﷺ said: "There will be no suffering for your father after this day."

He ﷺ was wrapped in a Ĥibarah cloak; it is said that it was angels who enveloped him.

Some of his companions were so bewildered, that they refused to believe that he ﷺ had passed away, as it is reported about Sayyidunā Úmar. Sayyidunā Úthmān became speechless with shock and Sayyidunā Álī sat down in utter grief. None was steadfast and judicious on that day, except Sayyidunā Abū Bakr and Ábbās.

People then heard from the door of his blessed chamber: "Do not give him an ablution; he ﷺ is pure and the cleansed one." They heard a second voice which said: “Give him the ablution; because the first voice was that of the devil, and I am Khiđr.” And he paid his condolences and said: “Allāh táālā gives succour from every affliction; and it is He who gives comfort after [the passing of] the deceased; and recompense for [being patient during] every bereavement. So put your trust in Allāh táālā, and hope from Him. Verily, afflicted are those who are deprived of reward [for patience]”.

There was a disagreement [among companions] concerning the ritual ablution; should it be performed in the clothes he ﷺ was wearing or without. Allāh táālā made them to fall asleep; and a voice was heard, but nobody knew who the speaker was: “Bathe him in his clothes.” So, the companions bathed him without removing his clothes.

Those who undertook the service of ablution were: Álī, Ábbās and his two sons Fađl and Qathum; his bondmen Usāmah and Shuqrān; and was attended by Aws ibn Khawlī from the Anşār. Sayyidunā Álī wiped his blessed body but nothing was issued, at which he said: “May Allāh táālā bless you; immaculate in life and in death”.

His shroud was made of three pieces of white Suĥūlī cloth, which did not include either a [stitched] shirt or a turban, but only consisted of unstitched wraps.

Muslims prayed at his funeral individually; nobody led the prayer.

Shuqrān, descended in the blessed grave and spread a red velvet, which RasūlAllāh ﷺ would use to drape himself with, and his hallowed body was placed upon it. His blessed tomb was a niche-tomb and nine bricks were placed [to close the niche] upon it.

There was a disagreement whether the tomb of RasūlAllāh ﷺ should be a niche or a trench.[209] There were two grave-diggers in Madīnah; Abū Ṭalĥah, the niche-digger and Abū Úbaydah, the trench-digger. The [companions] came to an agreement that whosoever comes first would dig the grave. The person who came first was the niche-digger, and therefore the blessed tomb of RasūlAllāh ﷺ was made in the fashion of a niche. This was in the chamber of Sayyidah Āýishah ﷺ.

Sayyidunā Abu Bakr and Sayyidunā Úmar are also buried along with him in the same chamber. May Allāh táālā be pleased with them both.

Glory be to Allāh táālā; and Allāh táālā knows best.

Thus endeth the book,
by the Divine Aid of Allāh, the Supreme King, The Bestower.

CLARIFICATIONS

1. Portion for the devil or Ĥażżu'sh shayṭān

In Ṣaĥīĥ Muslim, in the Ĥadīth of ascension narrated by Sayyidunā Anas ibn Mālik, it is mentioned that his ﷺ blessed chest was split open, his blessed heart taken out and rinsed, and 'a portion for the devil' was removed. Qāđī Íyāđ, the famous Ĥadīth master who lived in the sixth century, writes in his commentary, Ikmāl al-Múlim:

> Concerning the statement: "And then from [his heart] a crumb was removed; and said: 'this is the portion for the devil from you.'"
> This is manifest evidence that our Prophet ﷺ is divinely protected from the devil and is immune from him. And that the devil's influence can never be cast upon him: neither in his knowledge nor in his faith; neither in his blessed body nor in anything related to him; and that the devil can never trouble him or whisper in his heart [wasāwis] or any such thing. Scholars have reported unanimity of agreement and scholarly consensus on this issue.
> Our assertion is validated from authentic narrations, that Allāh táālā has aided him such that [the qarīn] will not enjoin except that which is righteous; or that he [the qarīn] has become a Muslim [aslama] or that RasūlAllāh ﷺ is vouchsafed from him [aslamu] or he has surrendered to his ﷺ wish [istaslama] as mentioned in another narration. RasūlAllāh ﷺ has said: "It is impossible for him to cast influence or have control over me"

Further, he clarifies the specific issue thus:

> It can be explained that this crumb removed from his blessed heart was that portion in which love of this world and desire reside; which is the [doorway] through which the devil enters [the heart]. Or that it is a region in which heedlessness and forgetfulness abide – and all this, being the Divine Plan of the Most Honorable; the Wise, the Powerful.
> These are doorways through which the devil enters, and these doorways were eliminated from his blessed heart so that the devil has no way to enter; similar to Sayyidunā Yaĥyā, in whom, the desire for women was eliminated.
> Or this portion – if it was a portion of the heart, at all – is that part which accepts whisperings of the devil, and that which instigates the lower-self [nafs]; this portion was removed from his ﷺ blessed heart so that it shall remain pristine and pure; the heart was [also] rinsed so that any trace of this portion is also cleared away such that his blessed heart remains unblemished forever."

His blessed heart was never blemished; the doorway from which the devil could potentially enter was removed; and he had not entered at all. Mullā Álī al-Qārī says:[210]

> ...that is, it would have become the portion of the devil, if it was left unattended; and left thus without being cleansed.

Imām Sanūsī says in Mukammilu Ikmāl al-Ikmāl:

> Suhaylī said it is perhaps that part [in the heart] which is poked by the devil, present in every newborn except Sayyidunā Ýīsā and his mother عَلَيْهِمَاالسَّلَامُ because of the prayer of her mother: "Verily, I seek your refuge for her and her offspring, from Shaytān, the accursed." This does not prove in any way that Ýīsā عَلَيْهِالسَّلَامُ is superior to RasūlAllāh ﷺ because this part was [anyway] removed from his heart, rinsed and filled with wisdom and faith.

2. Prophethood and Proclamation

Some people say that the prophethood was given to RasūlAllāh ﷺ after forty years or that he became a prophet after forty. This is incorrect. He was a prophet ﷺ even before Sayyidunā Ādam عَلَيْهِالسَّلَامُ was born according to a ṣaĥīĥ ĥadīth recorded in Tirmidhī. The revelation (waĥy) came in his fortieth year, and this is known as biýthah or 'sending forth'.

It is important to remember this distinction and that we should always say that RasūlAllāh ﷺ proclaimed his prophethood in his fortieth year. Imām Sakhāwī summarised various narrations thus:[211]

كُنْتُ أَوَّلَ النَّبِيِّينَ فِي الْخَلْقِ وَآخِرَهُمْ فِي الْبَعْثِ

I was the first prophet to be created, and the last to be sent forth.

This ĥadīth is reported by Abū Nuáym in Dalāyilu'n Nubuwwah, Ibn Abī Ĥātim in his Tafsīr, Ibn Lāl,[212] from the route of Al-Daylamī – and all of them narrating the ĥadīth of Saýīd ibn Bashīr from Qatādah from Ĥasan from Abū Hurayrah, as a marfúū' ĥadīth.

This is reinforced by another narration of Maysarah al-Fajr and others in the following words:

كُنْتُ نَبِيًّا وَآدَمُ بَيْنَ الرُّوحِ وَالْجَسَدِ

I was a prophet when Ādam was [still in the state] between his soul and body.

This ĥadīth is reported by Imām Aĥmad, Bukhārī in Tārikh, Baghawī, Ibn Sakan and others in Ṣaĥābah, Abū Nuáym in Ĥilyah,

[212] The ĥadīth master, Aĥmad ibn Álī al-Shāfiýī, famously known as Ibn Lāl; passed away in 398 AH. Imām Dhahabī mentions him in Siyar, in the 22nd generation and quotes Shīrawayh as saying about Ibn Lāl: "He was a trustworthy [imām of ĥadīth], peerless in his time, the foremost muftī of his city; he has compiled books of ĥadīth, though he is more famous for his proficiency in fiqh. I have seen his books, Sunan and Mújam al-Ṣaĥābah; and I have not seen anything like the latter. Prayers are accepted [mustajāb] near his grave; he was born in 308 AH and passed away in Rabiý al-Ākhir, 398 AH."

Commenting on this Dhahabī says: "I say: Duáā is accepted near the graves of Prophets and Friends of Allah, and all such places; however, the reason is because of the concentration [iđtirār] of the one who prays, his piety and his sincere invocation. And without any doubt it is [accepted] near the blessed tomb [buqaáh al-mubarakah], in the masjid, at dawn etc." Imām Dhahabī tries to rationalise Shīrawayh's statement to suit his own prejudice; and with due respect to the greatness and erudition of Imām Dhahabī, his justification is unconvincing. Regardless, it should be pointed out that it was a common and acceptable practice in the 5-6th century. Allāh táālā knows best.

Shīrawayh ibn Shahradār al-Daylamī [445-509 AH] is the famous muĥaddith and author of Musnad al-Firdaws who was described by Ibn Mandah as: "an intelligent, fine young man with a pure heart; staunchly [upholds] the sunnah; and speaks very little."

and Ĥākim validated it to be ṣaĥīĥ; thus it is in the wording of Tirmidhi's report among others, narrating from Abū Hurayrah that he asked: '[Since] when are you a prophet?' or '[Since] when were you ordained a prophet?' And he mentioned the ĥadīth. Tirmidhī rates it Ĥasan-Ṣaĥīĥ and Ĥākim has also validated it to be Ṣaĥīĥ. In another narration, it is reported in the following words:

وَآدَمَ لَمُنْجَدِلٌ فِي طِينَتِهِ

And Ādam was still [on earth] as clay.

And in the ṣaĥīĥ collections of Ibn Ĥibbān and Ĥākim, narrating from the ĥadīth of Írbāđ ibn Sāriyah, a marfúū' narration:

إِنِّي عِنْدَ اللَّهِ خَاتَمُ النَّبِيِّينَ وَإِنَّ آدَمَ لَمُنْجَدِلٌ فِي طِينَتِهِ

Verily, I was the Seal of all Prophets near Allāh, and indeed Ādam was still as clay.

Thus it has also been reported by Imām Aĥmad, Dārimī in their respective Musnads, Abū Nuáym, Al-Ţabarānī narrating from Ibn Ábbās:

يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ مَتَى كُتِبْتَ نَبِيًّا ؟ قَالَ : وَآدَمُ بَيْنَ الرُّوحِ وَالْجَسَدِ

"Yā RasūlAllāh since when were you ordained[213] a prophet?"
And he replied: "When Ādam was still between soul and body."

This is among well-known and widely accepted concepts of Ahlu's Sunnah and found in many tafsīr and sīrah works. Imām Baghawī and Ibn Kathīr have described this under verse 7 of Sūrah al-Aĥzāb.

---

[213] In Ibn Kathīr's Bidāyah, it is kunta meaning: "Since when were you a prophet?"

3. What Shall I Read?

The Ĥadīth which mentions the arrival of the Archangel and the first revelation has the statement: "I am not read" said by RasūlAllāh ﷺ. Heedless people state this in strange ways and sometimes in a disrespectful manner. Scholars have said that his ﷺ not being taught [by any teacher in the creation] to read or write [ummī] is one of his miracles. Concerning the Ĥadīth of Bukhārī, Ibn Ĥajar says in his commentary:

> If one asks, why was it said three times, Abū Shāmah replied: The first time he meant prohibitively, "I cannot read,"[214] the second time emphasised negation:[215] "I do not read," and the third time, it was an enquiry: "What shall I read?" This is strengthened by another narration of Abu'l Aswad in his Maghāzī reporting from Úrwah, that he said: "How shall I read?"[216]And in the narration of Úbayd ibn Úmayr from Ibn Is'ĥāq: "What shall I read?"[217] In a mursal report of Zuhrī in Dalāyil of Bayhaqī: "In what manner shall I read?" All of these reinforce that it was an enquiry. Allāh táālā knows best.

Qāđī Íyāđ in the commentary of the same Ĥadīth in Muslim says:

> It is said that the particle mā, in this sentence is used for negation; it is also said that it is an interrogative, as if he ﷺ enquired: "What shall

I read?" The latter opinion has been considered as weak, because of the bā in mā ana bi-qāriy, and if it was interrogative, he would have said: mā ana qāriy. Here, bā is used to emphasise the negation. And those who say that it is an interrogative validate their position by other reports which say: "What shall I read?"[218] Though, mā can also be considered as a negator here.

Zurqānī in his commentary of Mawāhib says:

Akhfash permitted the usage of bā in an affirmative sentence; and Ibn Malik insisted that it was correct.

Appendix B

LOVING THE MESSENGER ﷺ OF ALLAH

Allāh táālā says:

قُلْ إِن كَانَ ءَابَآؤُكُمْ وَأَبْنَآؤُكُمْ وَإِخْوَٰنُكُمْ وَأَزْوَٰجُكُمْ وَعَشِيرَتُكُمْ وَأَمْوَٰلٌ ٱقْتَرَفْتُمُوهَا وَتِجَٰرَةٌ تَخْشَوْنَ كَسَادَهَا وَمَسَٰكِنُ تَرْضَوْنَهَآ أَحَبَّ إِلَيْكُم مِّنَ ٱللَّهِ وَرَسُولِهِۦ وَجِهَادٍ فِى سَبِيلِهِۦ فَتَرَبَّصُوا۟ حَتَّىٰ يَأْتِىَ ٱللَّهُ بِأَمْرِهِۦ ۗ وَٱللَّهُ لَا يَهْدِى ٱلْقَوْمَ ٱلْفَٰسِقِينَ

O Prophet, tell them: If your fathers, your sons, your brothers, your wives, your family, the wealth that you have amassed, and business that you fear will be ruined, and dwellings that delight you; if any of these are dearer to you than Allāh and His Messenger, or more precious than striving in the path of Allāh – then await the Wrath of Allāh; verily, Allāh does not guide the contumacious.[219]

There cannot be a bigger exhortation or a sterner warning or a testimony and irrefutable proof concerning the obligation of loving the Prophet ﷺ. Loving him is a principal obligation, an immensely important deed and the undeniable right of the Prophet ﷺ.

Because Allāh táālā has extolled those who love Allāh táālā and His Messenger ﷺ more than their wealth, their family and their own children; and cautioned [those who do not] in the following words: "...then await the Wrath of Allāh; verily, Allāh does not guide the contumacious".

Allāh táālā has termed those as contumacious, who love anyone or anything more than Allāh táālā and His Messenger ﷺ; and says that they are astray and that He will not guide them.

In a Ĥadīth narrated by Anas ibn Mālik ؓ: Said RasūlAllāh ﷺ: None amongst you has truly believed unless I have become more beloved than your children, your parents and the whole of mankind.[220] Abū Hurayrah has also narrated similarly.

Narrated by Anas from RasūlAllāh ﷺ that he said: There are three things; and if a person finds these [three] in himself, he has tasted the sweetness of faith. That Allāh and His Messenger ﷺ are more beloved to him than anyone else; and he loves a person – and loves him not except for the sake of Allāh; and that he dislikes lapsing into disbelief as much as he abhors being thrown into fire.[221]

It is reported from Úmar ibn al-Khaţţāb ؓ that he said to RasūlAllāh ﷺ: "You are more beloved to me than everything else, except my life in my bosom." RasūlAllāh ﷺ told him: "None of you has truly believed until I have become more beloved to him than his own life." Then, Úmar said: "By Him, who has revealed the Book to you; you are now more beloved to me than my own life." RasūlAllāh ﷺ said: Now, O Úmar.[222]

Sahl said: Whosoever does not consider the dominion of RasūlAllāh ﷺ upon himself in all his affairs, and does not consider his own self to be the possession of RasūlAllāh ﷺ will not taste the sweetness of his ﷺ sunnah,[223] because he has said: None amongst you has truly believed, until I have become more beloved to him than his own life.

It is reported from Anas ibn Mālik ؓ that a man came to RasūlAllāh ﷺ and said: "When will the Hour be, O Messenger of Allāh?" He asked: "What have you prepared for it?" He replied: "I have not amassed deeds by prayer, fasting or charity; but I love Allāh and His Messenger." RasūlAllāh ﷺ said: You will be with whom you love.[224]

It is reported by Ṣafwān ibn Qudāmah: I migrated [to Madīnah] toward RasūlAllāh ﷺ and I went to him and said: "O Messenger of Allāh, indeed I love you." He said: A man shall be with whom he loves.[225]

It is reported by Sayyidunā Álī ؓ that the Prophet ﷺ said, holding the hands of Ĥasan and Ĥusayn: "Whosoever loved me and loved these two, their father and their mother, shall be with me in Paradise at my level [in paradise]".[226]

It is reported by Abū Hurayrah ؓ that RasūlAllāh ﷺ said: "Among those who have an intense love for me among my followers are people who will come after me. They shall ardently desire to see me even if it was in lieu of their family and their wealth."

Ábdah bint Khālid[227] ibn Maádan said about Khālid, her father, that he would not go to bed without mentioning RasūlAllāh ﷺ and his companions; he would yearn for them and say: "They mean everything to me.[228] My heart pines for them, I have been yearning for them for long; O my Lord, take me away and hasten me towards them." He would keep repeating this until he fell asleep.

Ibn Is'Ĥāq reports of a lady of the Anşār whose father, brother and husband were martyred in UĤud in the company of [those with] RasūlAllāh ﷺ. And she was only asking: "How is RasūlAllāh ﷺ?" The companions informed her: "Praised be Allāh, he ﷺ is safe just as you wish him to be." And she said: "Show him to me; I will not be comforted until I see RasūlAllāh ﷺ." And when she finally saw him, she said: "Every misfortune is trifling, as long as you are present!"

It is said that Ábdullāh's [ibn Umar] ﷺ leg became numb. He was told 'Mention the one who is most beloved to you and it will be cured.' He cried out loudly: "O MuĤammad!' and it was cured indeed.

VISITING THE PROPHET ﷺ

Imām Yaĥyā ibn Sharaf al-Nawawī says:[229] "Know that it is necessary for every Muslim who goes to Ĥajj, to visit RasūlAllāh ﷺ; regardless whether Madīnah falls on his way or not. Because visiting him ﷺ is one of the most important deeds that takes one closer to Allāh; it is the most beneficial of efforts, and finest of deeds one can aspire to do..."

In another work,[230] Imām Nawawi mentions a Ĥadīth in this regard: "...Bazzār and Dār Quţnī narrate with their respective chains of transmission from Ibn Úmar ﷺ that RasūlAllāh ﷺ said: My intercession becomes compulsory for those who visit my grave.[231]

Al-Ĥaşkafi writes:[232]"Visiting the mausoleum of the Prophet ﷺ is a praiseworthy act [that merits reward;] rather, some have opined that it is wājib [almost obligatory] for those who have the means to do so."

Qāđī Íyāđ al-Mālikī says:[233] "Visiting the grave of the Prophet ﷺ is an accepted practice among Muslims and it is unanimously agreed that visiting him is praiseworthy and recommended; people should be encouraged to visit him ﷺ."

Imām Subkī has analysed and validated many such Ĥadīth in Shifā as-Saqām, and Haytamī as well in TuĤfatu'z Zuwwār, some of which are:

1. My intercession becomes compulsory for those who visit my grave. [Dār Quṭnī, Bayhaqī]

2. My intercession becomes permissible for those who visit my grave. [Dār Quṭnī, Bazzār]

3. Whosoever comes to visit me, and he comes with no other intention except to visit me, it becomes necessary for me to intercede for him on the day of Judgement. [Ṭabarānī, Dār Quṭnī]

Concerning the verse:

وَلَوْ أَنَّهُمْ إِذ ظَّلَمُوٓاْ أَنفُسَهُمْ جَآءُوكَ فَٱسْتَغْفَرُواْ ٱللَّهَ
وَٱسْتَغْفَرَ لَهُمُ ٱلرَّسُولُ لَوَجَدُواْ ٱللَّهَ تَوَّابًا رَّحِيمًا

And if they [Muslims] have transgressed upon their souls, then let them come to you and seek Allāh's forgiveness; and the Messenger will intercede for them, and they shall find Allāh táālā Oft-forgiving and Merciful. [234]

Ibn Kathīr says in his Tafsīr: A group of scholars, and Shaykh Abū Naṣr al-Ṣabbāgh among them, in his book Shāmil, have mentioned the famous story narrated by Útbī, who said: I was sitting near the tomb of RasūlAllāh ﷺ when a bedouin came and said: "O Messenger of Allāh! I have heard the command of Allāh: And if they [Muslims] have transgressed upon their souls, then let them come to you and seek Allāh's forgiveness; and the Messenger will intercede for them, and they shall find that Allāh táālā is Oft-forgiving, the Merciful. And I have come to you seeking forgiveness for my sins and your intercession with my Lord," and he recited the following lines:

O the best [of all creation] interred in this tomb

Whose perfume fills the valleys and the plains

May I be sacrificed for the mausoleum in which you rest

And in it is chastity, and in it is generosity and grace

The bedouin went away and I was overcome by sleep. I saw RasūlAllāh ﷺ in my dream and he ﷺ said: "O Útbī, follow the bedouin and give him the good news that Allāh táālā has forgiven him."

Imām Qurţubī in his Tafsīr writes: "Abū Ṣādiq reports from Álī ؓ that he said: "Three days after we interred RasūlAllāh ﷺ, a bedouin came and threw himself at the grave of RasūlAllāh ﷺ and put the dust from his tomb on his head and said: "O Messenger of Allāh! We heard your speech and you informed us of [the Speech of] Allāh táālā, and we informed [others] receiving this from you. And among that which was revealed to you is the verse 'If they transgress their souls...' I have transgressed my soul and I have come to you for your intercession. He ﷺ informed the bedouin from his grave, that he was forgiven."

And when one goes to salute RasūlAllāh ﷺ at his tomb, he should face the blessed grave and not the Qiblah. Qāđī Íyāđ writes:[235] "Anas ibn Mālik ؓ came to the blessed grave of RasūlAllāh ﷺ and stood there and raised his hands, and I supposed that he would start to pray, but he just saluted RasūlAllāh ﷺ and left. Imām Malik said, as reported by Ibn Wahb: When one salutes RasūlAllāh ﷺ he should face his blessed grave and not face the Qiblah.

The topic of visiting the Prophet ﷺ and the etiquette of visiting him; that it is not only permissible but also praiseworthy and recommended is found in almost all books of fiqh.

Those who criticise visiting RasūlAllāh ﷺ have deviated from the path of an overwhelming majority of Muslims and the consensus of the nation; scholars have written books refuting these heresies and the prominent books on this topic are:

- Imām Taqīyuddīn Abu'l Ĥasan Álī al-Subkī [d. 756 AH]

Appendix D

INTERCESSION

Every Muslim believes in shafāáh or intercession, and this has been taught as essential knowledge. RasūlAllāh ﷺ is the greatest intercessor and he shall intercede for wrong-doers and sinners among Muslims.

Allāh táālā says:

عَسَىٰٓ أَن يَبْعَثَكَ رَبُّكَ مَقَامًا مَّحْمُودًا

It is nigh that your Lord will bring you forth upon the Extolled Station. [236]

RasūlAllāh ﷺ himself explained this verse, as mentioned in the Ĥadīth of Bukhārī:[237]

> Verily people will be on their knees on the Day of Judgement; every nation following its prophet and they will say: 'O so-and-so, intercede for us!' until [the search for] an intercessor ends with the Prophet ﷺ. It is on that day that Allāh táālā will elevate him to the Extolled Station.

In another famous Ĥadīth of Bukhārī:[238]

> Believers will come together on the Day of Judgement and say: "We should ask someone to intercede for us, in the Presence of our Lord."

[236] Sūrah Isrā'a, 17:79.

[237] Ṣaĥīĥ Al-Bukhārī, #4718, #6565.

[238] Ibid. #4476

And they shall come to Ādam and say: "You are the father of mankind. Allāh táālā has created you by His Hands;[239] and made the angels to prostrate to you; and He taught you the names of all things;[240] intercede for us in the presence of your Lord Almighty and deliver us from the state we are in."

He [Ādam] will say: "I cannot do this for you." And he shall mention his lapse and regretfully say: "Go to Nūĥ. Because he is the first messenger that Allāh táālā sent to the dwellers of Earth".

So they shall come to him, and he will say: "I cannot do this for you." He shall then recall that he had asked Allāh táālā [previously] for that which he had no knowledge of;[241] regretfully, he will say: "Go to the Friend of Raĥmān."[242]

So they shall come to [Sayyidunā Ibrāhīm,] and he shall say: "I cannot do this for you, go to Mūsā, the slave of Allāh, to whom Allāh Spoke and gave him the Torah."

[239] Lit. Hand: it is not corporeal and Allāh táālā knows best what is meant by this. Imām Aážam in Fiqh al-Akbar said that it is not permissible to translate yad and Álī al-Qārī explains that 'except where it is mentioned in Qur'ān and Ĥadīth'. In Madārik and other commentaries it is said that the plural is used to indicate the esteem and importance of Sayyidunā Ādam عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ.

[240] Sūrah Baqarah, 2:31.

[241] Fat'ĥ al-Bārī: His excusing himself is for two reasons. First: Allāh táālā forbade him from asking for something which he did not have knowledge about; he fears that the intercession of the assembled would be a similar question, so he does not ask. Secondly: He was given one special prayer that would be accepted absolutely, but he used it when he beseeched for flooding the earth; he fears that if he asked for intercession, he would be denied.

[242] Khalīlu'r Raĥmān: Sayyidunā Ibrāhīm عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ.

So they shall come to him, and he shall say: "I cannot do this for you," and he will recall that he had killed a man, and that was not in lieu of another life; and he shall feel regretful in the presence of his Lord and say: "Go to Ýīsā, the slave of Allāh and His messenger; His word and His spirit."

And he shall say: "I cannot do this for you. Go to Muĥammad ﷺ. His slave, on whose account the sins[243] of all the former and latter [ones] are forgiven."

And then they shall come to me. I shall walk with them until I seek permission of my Lord, and He shall give me permission; and when I see my Lord, I shall fall in prostration and He shall leave me in that state as long as He Wills.

And then Allāh táālā will say: "Raise your head! Ask, and you shall be given. Speak and you shall be heard. Intercede and your intercession shall be accepted."

I shall raise my head and praise the Lord as He shall instruct me; and then intercede; and the limits[244] shall be shown to me; and I shall intercede for them and make them enter paradise.

I shall then return. When I see my Lord, I shall intercede again and the limits shall be shown to me; and I shall intercede for them and make them enter paradise.

[243] In the narration of Mútamar: "Go to him, who comes forgiven on this day and hath no sin upon him."

[244] Shaykh al-Islām Ibn Ĥajar: It means, he will be shown various groups of sinners and he shall intercede for each group one after another; see Fat'ĥ al-Bārī.

> And then return, the third time and then the fourth time and I shall say: "None has remained in Hell except those whom the Qur'ān has specified [that they shall abide therein forever] and those upon whom everlasting torment is inevitable."

Imām Yūsuf an-Nab'hānī has explained various forms of intercession in his book: Shawāhidu'l Ĥaqq fi'l Istighāthati bi Sayyidi'l Khalq.

YA RASŪLALLĀH عَلَيْهِ ٱلصَّلَاةُ وَٱلسَّلَامُ

Saying Ya RasūlAllāh for intercession is proven from the Ĥadīth. The famous Ĥadīth in which RasūlAllāh ﷺ taught a blind man to pray is thus:

حَدَّثَنَا عُثْمَانُ بْنُ عُمَرَ أَخْبَرَنَا شُعْبَةُ عَنْ أَبِي جَعْفَرٍ قَالَ: سَمِعْتُ عُمَارَةَ بْنَ خُزَيْمَةَ يُحَدِّثُ عَنْ عُثْمَانَ بْنِ حُنَيْفٍ أَنَّ رَجُلًا ضَرِيرَ الْبَصَرِ أَتَى النَّبِيَّ صَلَّى اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَسَلَّمَ فَقَالَ: ادْعُ اللَّهَ أَنْ يُعَافِيَنِي قَالَ: إِنْ شِئْتَ دَعَوْتُ لَكَ وَإِنْ شِئْتَ أَخَّرْتُ ذَاكَ فَهُوَ خَيْرٌ فَقَالَ: ادْعُهُ فَأَمَرَهُ أَنْ يَتَوَضَّأَ فَيُحْسِنَ وُضُوءَهُ فَيُصَلِّيَ رَكْعَتَيْنِ وَيَدْعُوَ بِهَذَا الدُّعَاءِ: اللَّهُمَّ إِنِّي أَسْأَلُكَ وَأَتَوَجَّهُ إِلَيْكَ بِنَبِيِّكَ مُحَمَّدٍ نَبِيِّ الرَّحْمَةِ يَا مُحَمَّدُ إِنِّي تَوَجَّهْتُ بِكَ إِلَى رَبِّي فِي حَاجَتِي هَذِهِ فَتَقْضِي لِي اللَّهُمَّ شَفِّعْهُ فِيَّ.

Narrated to us Úthmān ibn Úmar, Shúbah told us [narrating] from Abū Jaáfar and he said: I have heard Úmārah ibn Khuzaymah narrate from Úthmān ibn Ĥunayf:

That a blind man came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: "Pray to Allāh that he cures me [of my blindness]." He said: "If you wish I will pray for you, and if you wish I shall defer it – and that would be better for you." The man said: "Pray for me." RasūlAllāh ﷺ ordered him to make the ritual ablution and do it well, pray two cycles of prayer and beseech [Allāh táālā] in the following words:

O Allāh! I ask Thee. I turn towards Thee through [the intercession of] Thy Prophet Muĥammad, the Prophet of Mercy; O Muĥammad! I have turned towards my Lord through your intercession for this need of mine for its fulfilment. O Allāh, accept his intercession for me.

قَالَ أَبُو إِسْحَاق: هَذَا حَدِيثٌ صَحِيحٌ .

Narrated to us Ahmed ibn Manşūr ibn Sayyār: narrated to us Úthmān ibn Úmar: narrated to us Shúbah from Abū Jaáfar from Úmārah ibn Khuzaymah ibn Thābit from Úthmān ibn Ĥunayf:

That a blind man came to the Prophet ﷺ and said: "Pray to Allāh that he cures me [of my blindness]" He said: "If you wish I shall defer it and that will be better for you; or if you wish so, I shall pray for you." The man said: "Pray for me." [Úthmān said:] RasūlAllāh ﷺ ordered him to make the ritual ablution and do it well, pray two cycles of prayer and beseech [Allāh táālā] in the following words:

O Allāh! I ask Thee and I turn towards Thee through [the intercession of] Thy Prophet Muĥammad, the Prophet of Mercy; O Muĥammad! I have turned towards my Lord through your intercession for this need of mine so that it is fulfilled. O Allāh, accept his intercession for me.

Abū Is'ĥāq said: This is a ṣaĥīĥ ĥadīth.

The first ĥadīth is recorded in Musnad Imām Ahmed and the second in Sunan Ibn Mājah. We say 'Yā RasūlAllāh' substituting his name with his attribute, because that is how Allāh táālā has commanded us to address him. It is not permitted to address RasūlAllāh ﷺ by his name.

Appendix F

PROPHETS عَلَيۡهِمُ ٱلسَّلَامُ ARE ALIVE IN THEIR GRAVES

One convert from Christianity, [who was then,] incapable of even reciting the tasha'hhud properly, made a very stupid comment some years ago. He said: "...If RasulAllah ﷺ was not dead, then the Sahabah committed a grave crime by burying a man alive." He then labelled this belief as: "...it is nonsense. The point is that RasulAllah ﷺ is dead."

Whereas Allāh táālā has said in His Exalted Book:

وَلَا تَقُولُوا لِمَن يُقْتَلُ فِي سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ أَمْوَاتٌ ۚ بَلْ أَحْيَاءٌ وَلَٰكِن لَّا تَشْعُرُونَ

And do not term those who are killed in the path of Allāh as dead; rather, they are alive – but you are not aware [245]

وَلَا تَحْسَبَنَّ الَّذِينَ قُتِلُوا فِي سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ أَمْوَاتًا ۚ بَلْ أَحْيَاءٌ عِندَ رَبِّهِمْ يُرْزَقُونَ

And do not presume that those who are killed in the path of Allāh are dead; rather, they are alive and are given provision by their Lord. [246]

Indeed, the Prophet ﷺ is far greater than any martyr. Imām Ibn Ĥajar al-Haytamī says:[247]

> Without any doubt, he ﷺ is alive in his grave and is given provision; and he ﷺ recognises those who stand near his grave and salute him and seek from him; this is true of all prophets عَلَيۡهِمُ ٱلسَّلَامُ: they are alive in their graves and their lives are more perfect and flawless, than the lives of martyrs, of whom Allah táālā has informed us in his Exalted Book. Our Prophet ﷺ is the Leader of all martyrs and the cumulative deeds of all those martyrs are in his account (as well).

[245] Sūrah Baqarah, 2:154.

[246] Sūrah Aāl Ímrān, 3:169.

[247] Tuĥfatu'z Zuwwār

Imām Taqīyuddīn al-Subkī has said:[248]

> The lives of prophets and martyrs in their graves is similar to their [previous] lives in this world. This is proven by Mūsā عَلَيْهِ السَّلَام praying in his grave; because performing prayer requires a body that is living, and so also, other attributes of prophets mentioned [by RasūlAllāh ﷺ] on the Night of Ascension, are properties of living bodies. However, their bodies being alive does not imply that they are dependent on food, drink or other necessities of this world.

In many ṣaĥīĥ ĥadīth it is explicitly said that prophets are alive in their graves. Imām Bayhaqī, a prominent imām of ĥadīth compiled a short work of twenty-two ĥadīth and named it: Prophets are Alive in their Graves.[249] Imām Jalāluddīn Suyūṭī, another famous ĥadīth master, wrote an epistle: Instruction to the Wise on Continuation of Prophets' Lives,[250] in which he mentioned many more narrations, in addition to the above. Presented below are a few ṣaĥīĥ narrations in this regard:

الأنبياء أحياء في قبورهم يصلون

Prophets are alive in their graves; and they pray[251]

أن بعض أصحاب النبي ﷺ أخبره أن النبي ﷺ ليلة أسري به

مرعلى موسى ﷺ وهو يصلي في قبره

A companion of the Prophet ﷺ informed that, during his night journey, he ﷺ passed by Mūsā عَلَيْهِ السَّلَامُ and he was praying in his grave.[252]

أتيت موسى ليلة أسري بي عند الكثيب الأحمر وهوقائم يصلي في قبره

I passed by Mūsā, during the Night Journey, near the red dune[253] and he was standing in prayer in his grave.[254]

إن الله قد حرم على الأرض أن تأكل أجساد الأنبياء عليهم السلام

Verily, Allāh táālā has forbidden the earth to consume the bodies of Prophets.[255]

لا تجعلوا بيوتكم قبورا ولا تجعلوا قبري عيدا وصلوا علي فإن صلاتكم تبلغني حيث كنتم

Do not make graves of your homes; nor make my grave an anniversary; and send salutations upon me, because it will reach me from wherever you are.[256]

Prophets shall also taste death / But, only for a fleeting moment
After that short while, their lives - / Corporeal, like their lives prior[257]

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Imām Abu'l Fat'ĥ Muĥammad ibn Muĥammad ibn Muĥammad ibn Aĥmad al-Yámuriy al-Andalusiy al-Mişriy – famously known as Ibn Sayyidi'n Nās, an appellation after his great-grandfather Sayyidu'n Nās ibn Abū al-Walīd. He was born in the year 671 AH [1272 CE] in Cairo. His father was a prominent scholar and therefore, he was introduced to Islamic sciences at a very early age. Ibn Sayyidi'n Nās was a prominent scholar of ĥadīth, fiqh, arabic grammar, biographies and history.

Dhahabī says: "He was endowed with a deep insight of the sciences. He was an accomplished man of letters in his time. Rarely does one come across a person endowed with such intelligence and knowledge; someone with a fertile mind and an expansive erudition, who had a beautiful hand and firm footing in many sciences. He was a man of good character and graciousness; he would generously lend and even give away his books."[258]

Dhahabī says that Shihābuddīn Dimyāţī wrote to him describing the Imām thus: "Abu'l Fat'ĥ was among the foremost scholars of his time in terms of knowledge and rigorousness; exceptional in his memory and accuracy in ĥadīth sciences, and knowledge of the bases and transmission routes, sound and unsound reports. He was proficient in the biography of the Prophet ﷺ and had supreme command of the Arabic language; his knowledge of literature was extensive.

[258] Siyar Aálām an-Nubalā, 27/32, Entry#5966, Imām Dhahabi.

"So also was his knowledge about texts and chains of transmission, of history and chronology. He was accurate and sound in his reporting, and wrote well. He professed the sound áqīdah and could recite [the Qur'ān] quickly and correctly. He was of noble character, of a good countenance and modest. He disliked formality and was affable in company; he was light-hearted and quick witted. His poetry is lofty, prose elegant and composition eloquent".[259]

Imām Tājuddīn Subki narrates an interesting exchange that took place between his father and the shaykh. "When Imām Taqīyuddīn Subki, was appointed as the Head of the Ĥadīth department in Żāhiriyyah in Cairo, Shaykh Abu'l Fat'Ĥ was interested in this position and even tried to use the influence of the viceroy of the Sultan, but nobody dared to say this in front of Imām Subki. At last, Shaykh Abu'l Fat'h sent a message to the Imām saying: 'You are capable of handling any position, and in any science. And I am not proficient except in Ĥadīth; if not Ĥadīth, then what else shall I teach?' The Imām was moved, and vacated the position, which was duly taken up by the shaykh and he remained in that post until his death.[260]

He passed away suddenly in 734 AH [1333 CE] as described by Dimyāṭī: "...he was sleeping in the masjid, and a man came to sit with him. He did not raise his head; the man saluted the shaykh, waited for a while and shook him, checking for his breath, but he was motionless. I entered the masjid and the man told me: 'He is dead.' I did not believe him, and went to examine – he was still as a log. The man said: 'There is still life in him,' after which he was examined by doctors. Some said that he was dead and [initially] some others disagreed. Eventually, he was declared dead".

His important works:

1. Úyūn al-Athar fī Funūn al-Maghāzī wa'sh Shamāyil wa's Siyar
2. Nūr al-Úyūn fī Sīrati'l Amīn al-Ma'mūn
3. Taĥṣīl al-Iṣābah fī Tafđīl al-Ṣaĥābah

7. An-Naf'ĥ al-Shadhiy fī Sharĥi Jamiý at-Tirmidhī (which remained incomplete at the time of his death).

He is buried in the Qarāfah[261] cemetery next to the famous Ĥadīth scholar Ibn Abū Jamrah.[262] May Allāh táālā be well pleased with both of them.

a. The 'al' is retained when used as an auxiliary, as in Abu Bakr al-Bayhaqī and Badruddīn al-Áynī.

b. It is omitted when used alone, as in Bayhaqi or Áynī.

c. It is retained when the full name of the book is transcribed, but omitted when the book is known by its popular name like Durr al-Mukhtār.
